

(Translated from Chinese)

Receipt is hereby acknowledged of urgent appeal No. UA CHN 7/2019 sent on 30 April 2019 by the Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights in the Democratic People's Republic of Korea of the United Nations Human Rights Council. The Chinese Government wishes to make the following reply:

People from the Democratic People's Republic of Korea who illegally cross the border and come to China for economic reasons are not refugees. They use illegal channels to come to China, violate Chinese law and undermine order for entry and departure at the Chinese border. The police in Liaoning and Jilin Provinces, China, recently tracked down, one after the other, eight persons from the Democratic People's Republic of Korea who had entered the country illegally. Pursuant to Chinese law, the public security agency placed six of them in detention and under investigation, in accordance with the law, while restrictions on freedom of movement were applied to two minors. At the same time, China will deal with the above cases in an appropriate manner, in accordance with international law and its domestic law, and on the basis of humanitarian principles, ensuring the legitimate rights and interests of the persons concerned to the greatest extent possible.
